Decision to Continue Detention
Following File Review

This letter is to inform you that your custody status has been reviewed by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and that you will not be released from custody at this time.

This decision was based on a review of your file record and consideration of information you submitted to DHS' reviewing officials.

You are not being released because:

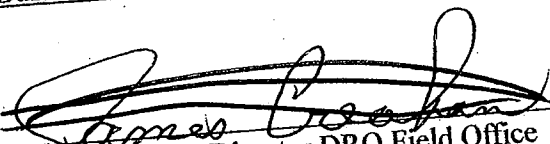

The record shows that you are a native and citizen of Jamaica who illegally reentered the United States with a fraudulently obtained US passport on or about February 2003 at New York City. You were issued an order to reinstate your removal order from April 03, 2000 on April 28, 2005. You filed with the 3rd District Court of Appeals and it was dismissed on April 16, 2007.

Due to your convictions for forgery, grand larceny, embezzlement, illicit transportation of minor with intent to engage in sexual act and intercourse without consent you are considered a threat to the community. Due to your uncooperativeness in assisting to obtain a travel document along with the fact that you reentered the US with a fraudulently obtained passport you are considered a major flight risk.

For the above-stated reason, it is therefore the decision of ICE that you should remain in custody at this time.

The DHS will conduct another review of your custody status in accordance with current regulations. It is in your best interest to maintain proper behavior while awaiting this review. If you have any questions please contact: Deportation Officer Hester

Officer Comments/Analysis & Recommendation

ICE records indicate that the subject is a native and citizen of Jamaica who claims to have last entered the United States by false claiming to US citizenship on or about February 2003. Subject had been previously deported from the U.S. on April 03, 2000 via flight Air Jamaica #010. He attempted to obtain U.S. citizenship while in Jamaica through the embassy but was denied on 09/25/01. RICKETTS was issued a reinstatement order (I-871) on April 28, 2005 by OI/ALB, which he refused to sign or be fingerprinted. On 09/05/06, he was released into ICE/DRO custody and sent to Buffalo Federal Detention Facility to complete removal to Jamaica.

Subject has been non-cooperative in efforts to obtain a travel document for his return to Jamaica. RICKETTS has a criminal history involving forgery ('04), grand larceny ('95), embezzlement ('95) and illicit transportation of a minor with intent to engage in sexual act ('95).

Ricketts is considered a major flight risk due to his history of obstructing in assisting with obtaining a travel document from the Jamaican government and obtaining a US passport by fraud which he used to reenter the country illegally. It is recommended that RICKETTS remain in custody pending his removal to Jamaica.

False claim of United States citizenship

APPLICATION: Termination

The respondent's appeal of the Immigration Judge's decision finding him to be a citizen and national of Jamaica and ordering him removed from the United States will be dismissed.

The respondent in this case asserts that the Immigration Judge erred in finding that he is a citizen and national of Jamaica. The respondent maintains that he was born in the United States on August 31, 1964. As such, the respondent claims that he is a United States citizen. The respondent also argues that the Immigration Judge abused his discretion in admitting certain documents into the record of proceedings obtained in violation of his rights under the Fourth and Fifth amendments of the United States Constitution.

The respondent was convicted on January 9, 1995, of illegal entry and harboring aliens in the United States in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1324(a)(1)(D). The respondent was also convicted of embezzlement of funds from a federally funded government agency, fraud and misuse of an alien registration card, and illicit transportation of a minor with the intent to engage in sexual activity, in violation of 8 U.S.C. §§ 666(a)(1)(A), 1546, and 2423. As a result of these convictions the Immigration and Naturalization Service served the respondent with a Notice to Appear (Form I-862) and charged him with deportability under sections 237(a)(1)(A), 237(a)(1)(B), 237(a)(2)(A)(iii), and 237(a)(3)(D), of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. §§ 1227(a)(1)(A), 1227(a)(1)(B), 1227(a)(2)(A)(iii) and 1227(a)(3)(D). We note that the respondent does not contest the allegations that he was convicted or that the convictions are deportable offenses, instead, the respondent contests the Service's allegation that he is an alien.

The respondent in this case maintains that he was born Paul Milton Miles, son of Lizzie Mae Page and Robert Miles, in Brooklyn, New York. In support of this contention the respondent provided a copy of a birth certificate, United States passport, drivers license, credit report, educational records, and name change petition. The Immigration and Naturalization Service disputes the respondent's citizenship claim and charges that he is, in fact, a native and citizen of Jamaica. The Service asserts that while working for the New York City Human Resources Administration the respondent illegally obtained the records of the real "Paul Milton Miles," a United States citizen, and assumed his identity. The Service presented the testimony of Gary Hittelman, a retired Service Special Agent, and Gerard Hoey, Deputy Inspector General of the New York City Department of Investigation in support of their claim. Citing the respondent's lack of credibility, the Immigration Judge found that the respondent was not a United States citizen. The Immigration Judge, instead, concluded that the respondent was a native and citizen of Jamaica, and ordered him removed from the United States.

Neither the Immigration Judge nor this Board have the authority to deport a United States citizen. See Trop v. Dulles, 356 U.S. 86 (1957); Matter of Fuentes, 21 I&N Dec. 893, 898-99 (BIA 1997). Nevertheless, we concur with the Immigration Judge's conclusion finding that the respondent's claims to United States citizenship lack credibility (I.J. at 7). The respondent in this case presented inconsistent evidence in support of his claim to citizenship. For example, the respondent presented evidence that he legally changed his name from "Paul Milton Miles" to "Junior Mohammed Ricketts" in 1984. When confronted by the Service with the fact that the name "Junior Nathaniel Ricketts" appeared on a Jamaican passport found in his apartment the respondent testified that the passport had been obtained for him in 1984 by a Jamaican man named Junior Ricketts (Tr. at 187).

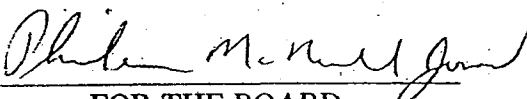

We find that the above discrepancy, along with many others detailed by the Immigration Judge in his written decision, provide specific and cogent reasons to support the Immigration Judge's conclusion that the respondent's claim lacks credibility. We note that a convincing explanation for these discrepancies has not been supplied by the respondent. Consequently, we will accord deference to the Immigration Judge's findings concerning the respondent's lack of credibility in this case. See Matter of A-S-, 21 I&N Dec. 1106 (BIA 1998).

Alternatively, we note that the Service has provided ample credible evidence showing the respondent to be a native and citizen of Jamaica. As noted above the Service provided a copy of the respondent's Jamaican passport, bearing his picture and signature. The Service also included copies of numerous arrival departure records (Form I-94) for a Junior Nathaniel Ricketts bearing the same identification number contained in his Jamaican passport. In light of the overwhelming evidence contained in the record we will affirm the Immigration Judge's decision in this case and find that the respondent is a native and citizen of Jamaica.

We reject the respondent's motion to suppress. Absent a showing of widespread abuse or an egregious violation that transgresses notions of fundamental fairness, an alien in immigration proceedings cannot suppress evidence assertedly procured in violation of his rights under the United States Constitution. See INS v. Lopez-Mendoza, 468 U.S. 1032 (1984). A motion to suppress must provide specific details of the Constitutional violation. See Matter of Barcenas, 19 I&N Dec. 609 (BIA 1988). In this case there is little evidence to support the respondent's assertions that the documentary evidence was procured in violation of his Constitutional rights. As such, we deny the respondent's motion to suppress. Accordingly, the following order shall be entered.

ORDER: The respondent's appeal is dismissed.
